THE YANKEE REBEL TAVERN

Fine Food & Spirits

*"I was born in America and am determined, at all hazards,
to live and die an American Citizen."*

The Yankee Rebel

Ambrose R. Davenport "The Yankee Rebel"

September 11, 1772 - March 13, 1858

Having experienced the patriotism of the American revolution as a child, Ambrose Davenport attended school in Virginia with William Henry Harrison. Upon graduation he enlisted with the U.S. Army and was assigned to Fort Mackinac here on the Island and was present for the American take over from the British in 1796.

In the following year, Ambrose Davenport left the military and remained on the Island for the lucrative fur trading business. By 1812, the prominent Davenports had six children and faced the British Invasion of Mackinac Island. As the war of 1812 progressed, the Fort, with its entire garrison and many Islanders, along with Davenport, became Prisoners of War. British Captain Charles Roberts demanded all American captives swear allegiance to the crown, but Ambrose Davenport refused, simply, but proudly, declaring, "I was born in America, and am determined, at all hazards to live and die an American citizen." Deported to Detroit, along with other prisoners, Davenport was placed on parole while his wife and family remained on Mackinac Island. Mrs. Davenport was constantly harassed and insulted by the British, as they referred to her as "the wife of the Yankee Rebel".

Following the recapture of Mackinac Island, Davenport returned home in 1815 and turned to farming since Astor now dominated the fur business. He became a charter member of Mission Church in 1823. A veterans land grant for his farm was finally confirmed by Congress in 1830 and his deed signed by Andrew Jackson. Their farm is located in the area now known as Hubbard's Annex.

Ambrose Davenport and his family weathered the failures and fortunes of farming and his homestead remains standing today as an old, small house at the back of property owned by Robert and Susie Raisch. In 1858, after his death at the age of 87, he left a large family that has dispersed throughout the United States.
